

Committee to Protect Journalists

To
Shri Pinarayi Vijayan
Honorable Chief Minister of Kerala
Government of Kerala

Subject: Strengthening press freedom and journalist safety in Kerala through electoral commitment

Respected Honorable Chief Minister,

As Kerala prepares for the upcoming state assembly elections next year, the Committee to Protect Journalists (CPJ) respectfully urges your esteemed political party to include a strong commitment to press freedom and the safety of journalists in your election manifesto.

A free, independent, and safe press is indispensable to a vibrant democracy. However, journalists across India — including in Kerala — face increasing threats to both their physical and digital security. Intimidation, harassment, surveillance, censorship, and restrictive regulations undermine the press's ability to operate independently and to serve the public's right to information. By making an explicit electoral commitment, your party can demonstrate national leadership in protecting the rights of journalists and strengthening democratic values.

Key areas of concern:

- Legal Safety: Journalists sometimes face legal actions, bureaucratic pressure, or procedural intimidation, which can restrict their ability to report freely.
- Digital safety: Expansive laws and regulations can enable censorship, surveillance, and forced content takedowns, endangering journalists' work and privacy.
- Physical safety: Journalists continue to face intimidation and, at times, violence, which restricts their freedom to report.
- Financial and regulatory pressures: Independent media outlets are vulnerable to punitive tax actions, bureaucratic hurdles, and funding restrictions that threaten editorial independence.

CHAIR
Jacob Weisberg

CEO
Jodie Ginsberg

Vice CHAIR
Lydia Polgreen THE NEW YORK TIMES

DIRECTORS
Diane Brayton THE NEW YORK TIMES
Sally Buzbee REUTERS
Susan Chira

Sheila Coronel COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
Caolifhionn Gallagher DOUGHTY STREET CHAMBERS

Alessandra Galloni REUTERS

Lester Holt NBC NEWS

Roula Khalaf FINANCIAL TIMES

Jonathan Klein GETTY IMAGES

Peter Lattman EMERSON COLLECTIVE

Kati Marton

Michael Massing

Geraldine Fabrikant Metz THE NEW YORK TIMES

Graciela Mochkofsky CUNY CRAIG NEWMARK GRADUATE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

Alan Murray WSJ LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

Julie Owono INTERNET SANS FRONTIÈRES and META OVERSIGHT BOARD

Julie Pace THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

David Remnick THE NEW YORKER

Maria Ressa RAPPLER

Maria Teresa Ronderos

Jacqueline Simmons BLOOMBERG

Nika Soon-Shiong FUND FOR GUARANTEED INCOME

Roger Widmann

Jon Williams

The John S. and James L. Knight Foundation
Press Freedom Center
P.O. Box 2675
New York, NY 10108
Phone: +1 (212) 465-1004
Fax: +1 (212) 465-9568
info@cpj.org

Committee to Protect Journalists

- Access to information: Barriers in obtaining timely government responses, participation in official briefings, and the ineffective use of RTI limit the ability of journalists to inform the public.

Suggested commitments for inclusion in the election manifesto:

- Guarantee protection from harassment, detention, and violence, ensuring the physical safety of journalists.
- Safeguard digital rights by protecting against unlawful surveillance, censorship, and arbitrary removal of content.
- Uphold editorial independence by opposing laws or actions that restrict reporting and investigative journalism.
- Promote transparency by facilitating fair and timely access to government information, press briefings, and RTI responses.
- Ensure fair, transparent, and safe working conditions for journalists across Kerala.

Incorporating these commitments into your party's manifesto would not only strengthen Kerala's democratic foundations but also reaffirm your government and party's vision of inclusive governance and respect for free press.

We would be honored to engage further with you or your policy team to discuss these recommendations in detail.

With utmost respect,

Kunal MAJUMDER
India Representative
Committee to Protect Journalists